

Since 1992 Highland Musikarchiv distributes ROYALTYfree instrumental music, composed and produced with professional musicians, in its own studio.

Fields of application for the constantly growing repertoire are dubbing for film and video production, slide shows, multi media, public address/acoustic systems, telco systems etc.

Highland Musikarchiv composer J. Lehberger is not a member of the German national authors association GEMA and therefore manages his own rights. All Highland Musikarchiv titles are GEMAFree. Professionally produced music and sounds are available from Highland Musikarchiv (always together with the rights of use and stage rights) for a fixed price. The only remaining decision for the client is whether the application is in the commercial or non-commercial field.

Our current repertoire (04/2014) comprises of +13.100 titles and sounds, available on 140 CDs/DVDs.

Highland Musikarchiv' client base includes professionals and business, i.e. Bosch, German public service TV broadcasters ARD and ZDF, private TV stations, Federal Administration, EKD etc.
